France Seeks Lost Children in Reich

Nazis Tried to Destroy All Trace of Those Deported.

PARIS.—Somewhere in Germany are more than 300,000 "lost" children.

Many were born legitimately in France; others are the illegitimate "living reminders" of the French slave laborers deported to the fatherland.

Few of these children talk anything but German, according to Madame de Lamorlaye, a Revensbruck political deportee who has been placed by the French government in charge of finding and repatriating these budding French men and women.

She reported:

"All trace of the children kidnaped from France has been destroyed systematically by the Germans.

"The Germans needed new blood to build up and strengthen their 'master race' and sent these children to German homes and orphanages.

"We are having great difficulty tracking them down, particularly as the children have forgotten all about France and usually talk nothing but German; many of them having even been taught to hate the French.

According to Madame Lamorlaye, thousands of children, born of French parents in Germany, have been scattered by German dispersal regulations and are being handed over to the Allied authorities daily by Germans who are afraid to keep them.

But other thousands are being held by German families who are confident that they can never be claimed. These little French boys and girls are being brought up to hate from Germany as their home country.

Special investigators are combing Germany looking for these children, said Madame Lamorlaye, and they are checking on numerous German women who married French deportees.

3,000 Miles of Trails Planned in California

SAN FRANCISCO.—Without dissent, the California legislature has authorized spending $300,000 to start work on a 3,000-mile system of horseback and hiking trails extending in a huge loop from the Mexican border to Oregon and back up the Sierra foothills and the shores of the Pacific.

The ambitious project will take some 10 years and $2,000,000 to complete. It will lead riders through giant redwood forest, semi-desert and flowered plains, beside trout streams, over foothills of historic gold-rush days, along coastal ridges and sandy beaches.

But for all its modern wrinkles such as automatically closing gates to woo the goodwill of cattlemen and a system of rustic hostels every 20 to 30 miles, principal sponsors of the project contemplate the job with the leisurely air of sportsmen.

Then

"Zeke," admonished the farmer, "when I took your calf to pasturage you agreed to pay me one dollar a month for the accommodation. Five months have gone by, and you haven't paid me a cent. If you don't pay me right away, I'll have to take the calf."

The old darkey shuffled his feet, frowned, and plaintively replied, "Mister Jones, dat calf am wuth mo' than five dollars."

The farmer was obstinate. "You pay me or I will take your calf," was his ultimatum.

The darky scratched his head, pondered briefly, and then replied, "I'll tell you what I'll do. I believe dat calf am wuth mo' than five dollars, but if you will keep him for one month more, den I'll give him to you for de pasturage."

No Votes Lost, Anyhow

The governor of Wyoming tells this one on himself. He happened to visit the state penitentiary just as the prisoners were assembling for a meal. The warden asked the governor to make a few remarks. Without thinking, he began, "Fellow citizens," but their wry smiles reminded him that they had lost their citizenship. He began again, "Fellow convicts—" but that was even worse. Wildly floundering, the governor made one last try. "Well, men, I don't know what to call you, but I certainly am glad to see so many of you here."

Too Much Trouble

There was a drunk who walked into a restaurant and sits down to the table. A waiter who had a bad leg and was limping, walks over to him and asks the drunk what he would like to have. The drunk replies: "Bring me some clam chowder." The waiter answers, "Okay," and limps away. The drunk looks over at him and says: "If you got to go downstairs for it, the heck with it."

Dental Technicians Are Scarce in U. S. Army

TOKYO. — Allied headquarters recently listed dental laboratory technicians, orthopedic mechanics and medical laboratory technicians in "scarce" categories, subject to retention for six months after they become eligible for discharge.

It said Washington had listed medical and dental officers with adjusted service rating of 60 points or 39 months' service or those more than 45 years old as eligible for discharge.

Hopes for Hosiery Hang by a Thread

WASHINGTON. — The only bright note on the lady's hosiery front isn't too bright.

The Civilian Production administration says it will be six months to a year before the shortage is over but that it should ease up very soon. Nylon production increases.

Vaccinate Against Swine Erysipelas

In localities where swine erysipelas has appeared, farmers should vaccinate pigs against this disease as soon as possible. If the farm has been infected, vaccination is a must. This costly disease has spread so rapidly that it is now present in practically every state, the American Foundation for Animal Health reports. The disease may be mistaken for hog cholera by the average farmer.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of Charles H. Coleman, who departed this life July 27, 1945.

Our dear husband and father
Whom we loved so well,
Has left us and gone
With the Angels to dwell.
Tears of silence often flow,
But memories keep him ever near us,
Though he left us long ago.
A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is still,
A place is vacant in our hearts
And home that never can be filled.
We miss him at the table,
We see his vacant chair;
But we have given him back to Jesus, to rest forever in His tender care.
Sweet memories forever linger
Around his peaceful grave.

Operations for Stomach Removal Good 89 Times

BOSTON, MASS. — Dr. Frank H. Lahey, director of the Lahey clinic, recently reported 89 successful operations in which the patients' stomachs were removed completely.

Addressing the Massachusetts medical society, Dr. Lahey said the gastrectomies were done to remove cancerous or other growths.

One patient, whose stomach was removed eight years and seven months ago now is alive and well, Dr. Lahey added. He said a "substitute stomach" is provided for these patients through a loop in the intestines.

Dr. Lahey also advised people past middle-age who have indigestion that lasts longer than a week to submit to x-ray examinations because "they may be suffering from ulcers or cancer."

Southern California Is Struck by Food Scare

LOS ANGELES. — A new kind of bread line formed at bread-barren southern California markets. Grocers and bakers blamed a sudden shortage on panic buying and government flour purchases.

Millers blamed short deliveries on competition from the Federal Commodity Credit Corp., bidding 20 cents a bushel above the market price for wheat to deliver abroad.

Give Phenothiazine in Bolus Form to Sheep

Tests conducted at Mississippi have indicated that phenothiazine given in bolus form is more effective in treating sheep at the stomach worms or nodular worms than when it is given as a drench. Mixing the phenothiazine with the food is too uncertain unless each animal is treated separately. The capsule form is not satisfactory because of the amount of time required to fill and weigh the capsules.

Transportation of families at government expense is not yet fully authorized. Priorities will be given those with the longest overseas service, whether military or civilian service

The association made public a letter from President Truman commending the program. He wrote that it is "well designed to focus attention on the importance of the responsibility of the individual."

FALSE STATEMENTS .... AND SENATOR BYRD'S TRUE STAND FOR FARMERS

At the 11th Hour in the Democratic Primary Campaign an advertisement is being published in Virginia signed by HENRY FOWLER AND MRS. HENRY DURR (SISTER OF JUSTICE HUGO BLACK OF ALABAMA).

THIS ADVERTISEMENT TOTALLY MISREPRESENTS THE ATTITUDE OF SENATOR BYRD WITH RESPECT TO FARMERS AND AGRICULTURAL LEGISLATION.

The statement that Senator Byrd opposed legislation beneficial to farmers IS TOTALLY UNTRUE.

On the contrary, SENATOR BYRD SUPPORTED THE TRIPLE A, THE RURAL ELECTRIFICATION PROGRAM, THE SOIL CONSERVATION PROGRAM, voted FOR INCLUSION OF LABOR COSTS IN AGRICULTURAL PARITY PAYMENTS, ETC.

In addition, HE RECOMMENDED THE REDUCTION IN FARM TAXES THROUGH REPEAL OF STATE TAXES ON LAND AND THE BYRD ROAD LAW, by which the State took over county road maintenance. Together these recommendations resulted in SAVING SIX MILLION DOLLARS A YEAR FOR FARMERS and made THE VIRGINIA TAX ON REAL ESTATE THE SECOND LOWEST IN THE COUNTRY.

We urge you NOT TO BELIEVE THE STATEMENTS IN THIS ADVERTISEMENT which are MADE BY PEOPLE WHO ARE NOT EVEN RESIDENTS OF VIRGINIA.

Senator Byrd has ALWAYS BEEN WITH AND FOR FARMERS and the BEST INTEREST OF AGRICULTURE.

Uncle Sam Says

The raising of the flag is always a wonderful thrill. This statue of the scene on Mount Surabachi which now stands across from the Navy Department in Washington, D. C., our nation's capital, recalls the back-the-attack spirit and your deeds as a wartime bond buyer. My slogan for you today on the first peacetime Flag Day since 1941 is "Now Back Your Future." Continued investment of part of your earnings in savings bonds is consistent with devotion to the flag. Old Glory symbolizes the security which savings bonds assure.

Munitions Shipments

In the six year period from 1940 to 1145 inclusive, shipments by rail of explosives for both military and commercial use amounted to 65,296,983 tons or 1,302,623 carloads. In 1940 they amounted to 331,621 tons or 17,363 carloads but increased each year until they finally reached a peak in 1944 of 18,862,085 tons or 433,965 carloads. Shipments in 1945 totaled 18,673,542 tons or 455,565 carloads. The report called attention to the fact however, that whereas the average load of military explosives per car was 13,600 pounds in 1940, it increased to 86,000 pounds in 1944 and 82,300 pounds in 1945.

DDT Has an Important Rival in Velsicol 1068

A compound of chlorinated hydrocarbon, product of the University of Illinois insect experiments, is said to be three to four times as toxic to houseflies as DDT and as twice as toxic to potato-beetle larvae and to pea and spirea aphids. It is about equal to DDT in its effect on mosquitoes. Other new competitors of DDT include the British insecticide Gammexane and TDE, tetrachloro-diphenyl-ethane.

Russia Will End Bread Rations in the Autumn

LONDON.—Bread, flour and macaroni will come off the list of rationed foods in Russia in the autumn and it is intended to cancel the entire ration system next year, the Moscow radio stated. More than 3,200 food factories destroyed during the war now have been restored.

Two hundred new food processing factories, including sugar refineries and canneries, soon will be in full production in White Russia, the broadcast added.

The broadcaster said Kazakstan expects to process a record-breaking 300,000 tons of sugar this year.

Venetians Developed Sh'p Assembly 500 Years Ago

American shipyards weren't the first in history to put assembly line methods into shipbuilding. The Venetians made the gentry sit up and take notice with their techniques more than 500 years ago, Ships magazine reports. On one occasion Venetian arsenalotti—ship craftsmen—built 100 vessels in 100 days, and on another turned out a complete galley in two hours. Here's a traveler's description of a 1456 vintage assembly line:

"... as one enters the gate there is a great street on either hand with the sea in the middle, and on one side are windows opening out of the houses of the arsenal, and the same on the other side. And out came a galley towed by a boat, and from the windows they handed out to them . . . everything that was required. And when the galley had reached the end of the street all the men were on board, together with the complement of oars, and she was equipped from end to end. In this manner there came out 10 galleys fully armed, between the hours of three and nine."

And in 1574 King Henry III of France visited Venice and watched a galley's keel and ribs grow into a vessel completely outfitted, armed and launched while he was storing away delicacies at a two-hour banquet.

Raising of Buckwheat For Rutin Extraction

Buckwheat has been discovered to be a much more economical source than tobacco as a source of rutin, a drug used in the prevention of many causes of blindness and heart diseases.

The buckwheat is harvested while still in its green stage. As the plant will not sprout again, it is necessary to reseed if more than one crop is to be secured. It is possible to secure two or three crops.
